AIMS AND SCOPE

The Asian Journal of Health aims to publish new discoveries from the multidisciplinary areas of health sciences including basic and clinical, social, ethnomedical, modeling, and health education researches.

The Asian Journal of Health is an international peer reviewed publication which serves as a venue for scholars from the health sciences to disseminate their scientific discoveries as basis for public policies and program planning, thereby translating these research findings into improved healthcare practices and services, as well as advancing pedagogies in health education.
